WAR MEMORIAL RECREATIONAL CENTRE OPENED AT SOUTHORN PLAYGROUND

The War Memorial Welfare and Recreational Centre at the Southorn Playground, Wanchai, was officially opened by the Governor, Sir

Alexander Grantham, yesterday afternoon. The Governor, accompanied by Lady Grantham and his aide-de-camp, Mr. C. J. R. Dawson, arrived at five o'clock. He was received by Sir Arthur Morse, President of the Children's Playground Association, and Lady Morse; Mr. Justice E. H. Williams, Chairman of the Hong Kong War Memorial Committee, and Mrs. Williams; and Mr. B. J. B. Morahan, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the Association, and Mrs. Morahan.

"Considerable discussion went on in 1948 but the heavy cost of building prevented a great deal being accomplished. Convinced of the benefits to be derived from the scheme an appeal was made early in 1949 to the War Memorial Fund Committee on the grounds that such a centre as this would make a most suitable War Memorial. After due consideration of the arguments put forwar, the War Memorial Fund Committee ununimously decided to make a grant of $350,000 towards the scheme.-I-would like now to express my sincere thanks to His Honour, Mr. Justice Willlams. When, many years ago, the development plans of this area were sent up to him in his capacity as Colonial Secretary, no provision had been made for a playground. He immediately saw this and said there must be a playground. It is thanks to him that we now have this very valuable open space in one of the most densely populated parts of

Hong Kong. "One might expect that on asstructed would want to take all the credit to itself, and not to allow any other organisations to share the building. But not so the Children's Playground Association. "I have to thank the Constrac- In this building they have made

"I have heard one or two people say that it is a mistake to spand so much money on a building, albeit that it is a pract tical one, and that we should only have open spaces. If It were proposed to have similar bulldings on every playground throughout the Colony 1 would agree. But that is not intended, nor is it necessary. On the other hand I do consider it important that there should be a central headquarters where the various youth-organisations — can_meet. quite apart from the fact that is desirable to have at least one building where there can be changing rooms, showers, road. ing rooms, instruction nooms and so on. It may be necessary, at a later date, to have a similar building in Kowloon, but it too early yet to say. Two build. ings should certainly adequate for the Colony as a whole,-one on the Island and one on the mainland.

"Just as we should not rely on Government to do everything, so we should not rely solely on those public-spirited members of the community who comprise the committees of the various charitable associations. We want the people themselves of the districts concerned to take an interest in the centries or playgrounds. Treason trial in Belgrade

Belgrade, June 4. The prosecutor in the treason trial of two pro-Soviet Yugoslav Army officers demanded heavy sentences for the two men today after making one of the sharpest public attacks against Russia ever heard in Yugoslavia.

Lleutenant-Colonel Ilija Koltic told the three-man Belgrade military, tribunal trying the two that the "heavy misdeeds" of Colone Lada Dapchevic and Major-General Brankò Petrichevic had been clearly proven by their own admissions, by witnesses and by ex-

While 200 spectators applauded the one-armed prosecutor declared: "The statement of the defendants at this trial has ripped the mask from the faces of Soviet diplomatic representatives Yugoslavia, gathering around them miserable and weak deserters and traitors."-

The prosecution charged the two defendants with three crimes: 1. Participating in an organisation working against the existing Government in Yugoslavia.

2. Espionage on behalf of the Soviet Union.

3. Attempting to flee to Russia to continue "their enemy activities against Yugoslavia."

Charging both the defendants were equally guilty, the prosecutor said: "I ask the court to hand down heavy and just sen-

Izvestia denies slander

London, June 4. Moscow Radio reported to day that the Soviet Government newspaper, "Izvestia," denied accusations in the Coy Ion Press that it had offended Buddhist feeling by publishing an article and a cartoon on a visit by Mr. Ernest Bevin to "Buddha's Tooth"—a religious relic in Ceylon.

The Caylon Government protested officially to the Soviet Government a week ago, alleging that the article and cartoon were "offensive to Ceylon Buddhists," the paper continued.

The exact circumstances incidents are still known. Probably it was a wise politically by decision Churchill to send troops Greece. By trying to aid Greece we gained politically more than we lost militarily by exposing North Africa. The tragedy was that the disagreements between Lord Wavell and London seem to have led to his withdrawal from operational command for nearly all the rest of the war.

There is a mystery why he was not again employed in actual fighting. He became Commanderin-Chief in India, where his task for two years was to prepare armies and defences; not to direct troops in action:

French-effort-to keep smiling Paris, June 4.

The French government, dismayed at the angry quarrel with Britain into which it was precipitated last week over the Schuman Plan, today prepared to make a major effort to restore friendly relations between London and Paris.

Word went out from the Prime Minister, Mr. Georges Bidault, and the Foreign Minister, Mr. Robert Schuman, to all responsible government officials to avoid rigorously any further polemies or backbiting over Britain's refusal to join France and five Western neighbours in a daring plan to pool Western Europe's heavy industry resources.

French newspaper editors were discreetly requested to avoid anything in the nature of an anti-British campaign in editorial columns. The 'Quai d'Orsay decided to make no reply to the British Foreign Office communique of Saturday, suggesting a conference of Western European Foreign Ministers on the coal and steel pooling programme before the opening of the sixtalks here a fortnight

Harriman on Schuman pool plan

New York, June 4. Mr. Averell Harriman, Ambasendor for the Economic Co-Operation Administration, said today that the decision of six European nations to pool scoal and steel production was the first major proposal for the economic integration of Europe.

Mr. Harriman returned by plane from London to testify before Congressional committees on the extension of the mutual defence assistance programme.

The decision to pool production, under the Schuman Plan, Mr. Harriman said, was a very bold and imaginative proposal of great political significance.

He said that England's hesitancy The chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Senator Tom to become part of the pooling was understandable because the British Government wants know a little more about it.

RUBBER STOCKS IN MALAYA DWINDLING

Singapore, June 4. A crisis faces the rubber consuming world as stocks of natural rubber in South-East Asia dwindle and prices continue to spiral.

Britons getting dumber?

London, June 5. Britons are getting dumber each generation, says Professor Godfrey Thomson, Professor of Edinburgh University.

In a paper presented to the Royal Commission on population, Sir Godfrey says that Intelligence is largely an inherited quality and intelligent people tend to produce smaller families so the average intelligence will sink generation by generation.

Professor J.B.S. Haldane, Professor of Biometry at University College, London, disagrees with

Thomson's position. Haldane says in another paper to down planters and tappers sigh. the commission, "are even less They maintain that for the past fertile than the highly intelligent... existing data give no rea- a lean time and only now is enson to suppose that the level of lloying a profitable return. The crux is that heavy world demand created by stockpiling in the cold war is outstripping supply.

It is feared that Malaya's rich estates on which major rubber consuming nations depend may crack under the strain.

Malayan rubber trade authorities say four main factors contribute to the present situation.

1. Heavy Russian buying.

2. A heavy shortage of "physical rubber" which is rubber for immediate delivery. 3. Huge stocks bottled up

4. Strip tapping in Malaya. Unsettled political and economic conditions in other parts of South East Asia provoked Russia into coming into the Malayan

Rubber in Indonesia

It is estimated that there are 70.000 tons or sured rubber in Indonesian warehouses. Conditions there are unstable politically and economically. Following the USI hovernment's recent devaluation of currency by 50 per cent, rubber holders would not sell their commodity for fear of further devaluation or depreciation in the value of the currency.

European and Chinese estates and smallholders alike are braving Communist terrorism to produce Malaya's chief export.

Targets of terrorists

European estates are main targets of terrorists and have been turned into miniature fortresses. Barbed, wire and tanglements and slit trenches ring buildings. Security guards in strategic positions keep day and night vigit against Communist attacks.

Sometimes the Communists meceed in breaking through defences and burn buildings and mins, 3.7-secs. set fire to rubber.
